Do you or your child experience any of the following symptoms?

- Difficulty forming words
- Slurred speech
- Hoarse voice or voice disturbances
- Difficulty understanding written or spoken words
- Hearing loss
- Inability to recall known words
- Ongoing difficulty expressing certain sounds or words
- Difficulty swallowing
- Facial weakness following a stroke or head trauma
- Complications due to a neuromuscular disease

If so, you or your child may benefit from Sitrin’s Speech-Language Pathology Services.

Symptoms may develop gradually or occur suddenly, but anyone can develop a speech and language impairment. At Sitrin, highly trained and licensed Speech-Language Pathologists perform case-specific evaluations, and develop individualized therapy programs to assist in restoring and improving communication abilities.
Sitrin’s Speech-Language Pathologists treat a wide range of diagnoses including:

- Stroke
- Stuttering
- Memory Deficits
- Cleft Palate
- Brain Injury
- Auditory Processing Disorders
- Nodules/Polyps
- Parkinson’s Disease
- Apraxia of Speech
- Developmental Delays
- Autism Spectrum Disorders

Sitrin’s Speech-Language Pathology Program provides education to patients and families regarding communication impairments and home programs to better assist patients in improving and restoring communication abilities.

Patients interested in a speech-language screening or evaluation should first obtain a referral from their doctor. After obtaining a referral, please call (315) 737-2462 for an appointment.

For more information, please call Sitrin’s speech and audiology department at (315) 737-2457.

Related services offered at Sitrin:
- Audiology
- Physical Therapy
- Occupational Therapy